

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A near-field probe includes a metallic scatterer fabricated on a substrate in a contour of a circular cone, a polygonal pyramid, a planar ellipse, or a triangle and a film of a metal, a dielectric, or a semiconductor formed in a periphery of the scatterer with film thickness equal to height of the scatterer.

000260"46959960